Solid reliability built around a suit packed with quality and features.

Material and seam integrity is where O'Three starts with all its dry suits.

Using the same high end components and our super supple neoprene seals, the Port 10 Drysuit is equipped to withstand the rigours of commercial diving, whilst appealing to the newly qualified diver.

O'THREE

A 5mm Neoprene dry suit, tailored properly and dived with the correct under-suit has been at the core of O'Three's 36-year journey and our success. These suits have become symbols of strength and reliability throughout the diving world.

Driven by our passion and respect for these originals, O'Three's MF5 delivers exceptional insulation, increased comfort, flexibility, and durability.

a war to trial your product?"

You don't know what you don't know

What we do know

- Up until 2019 suits were rarely returned for service and overhaul
- Some farms had badges on to prevent cross contamination, this has stopped
- Historically the MF5 was the suit of choice as it was easier to clean, but the Port 10 has become more popular.
- Daily diving schedules can be disrupted
- Suits returned smell badly
- Could be causing contamination issues but we cannot prove it.

What we don't know

- What the level of contamination is?
- What impact this is to your Bio Security
- How much this could impact your business
- Is there a demand for and alternative?
- How many clients would be interested?

Summary

Drysuits | Wetsuits | Neoprene Accessories

- The downside is there is no desire from the subcontractors to change
- Difficult to connect with Aquaculture firms to share findings
- This is why we are here today to ask the question?
- “Would there be a positive impact to your business if these suits were available”
